SOHINI BANERJEE

Project Management | Marketing | HR | Teaching

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Engineer by degree, communicator by instinct, organizer at heart. A 2025 BTech (CSE) graduate who swapped code for coordination - now Google-certified in Project Management and a first-position debate champion in English and Hindi. I bring the same energy I used winning debates to planning projects, rallying teams, and making complex ideas simple. Seeking an entry-level role in project management, marketing, HR, or training where I can learn fast and deliver real impact.

CAREER FOCUS

- Project Co-ordination & Delivery - planning, scheduling, Agile workflows, stakeholder updates
- Marketing & Brand Communication - audience engagement, campaign basics, content & persuasion
- People & HR - employee engagement, recruitment support, training and onboarding
- Teaching & Mentoring - making technical and management concepts easy to grasp

ACHIEVEMENTS

- Debate Champion - first position in English and Hindi debate competitions, showcasing exceptional public speaking, argumentation, and quick thinking
- Extempore Champion - recognized for confident, on-the-spot speaking before groups
- Poetry Recitation - first in English, third in Hindi, highlighting creativity and expressive communication
- Organizational Recognition - appreciation certificate from the General Manager, Metal & Steel Factory, for first position in their organizational debate

INTERESTS

Teaching & sharing knowledge, public speaking, writing, management analytics, and learning people-management practices.
